RUTGERS

Reimagining the University-City Connection

Rutgers University–Camden

March 28, 2017

What Sets Us Apart

- An Office of Civic Engagement that focuses university efforts on engagement and creating opportunities to connect the community to the campus
- Partnerships with faculty, deans, and administrators to develop engaged civic learning. Faculty Fellows provide our students with rich learning experiences and faculty with innovative opportunities to advance their teaching and research projects
- Dedication to transforming the lives of our students through personalized academic and education attention – and research and problem-solving experiences – that will help achieve each student's success as a learner and a civically engaged citizen.
- Faculty-led research and campus experiential learning offerings that illuminate a wider understanding of the urban experience in America, and that exhibit excellence both within and across disciplines, with special attention to emerging fields.

Research and Engagement

- Arts and Sciences
 - Center for Urban Research and Education
 - Facilitate and promote research on urban issues by faculty and their collaborators around the nation; and help train the next generation of urban scholars
- Nursing
 - Research on health promotion with African-American women and girls
 - Nurse practitioners delivering care to homeless population through a collaboration with Project HOPE at the Cathedral Kitchen
- Business
 - Capital Goodness: Political Climate May Boost Social Enterprise
- Law
 - Juvenile Justice Reform

Leveraging Resources for Community Growth

- Rutgers–Camden Center for the Arts
 - Serving over 16,000 students and youth through arts education for prek–12th grades
 - Big READ and Community Arts
- Small Business Development Center
 - Launched 24 area businesses in 2016
- Senator Walter Rand Institute for Public Affairs
 - Is South Jersey Getting it's Fair Share?
- Pro Bono
 - Projects ranging from bankruptcy to Iraqi refugee assistance to domestic violence: 3,902 hours
 - Clinics: ranging from immigration to child advocacy to constitutional litigation: 40,000 hours

A National Leader in Civic Engagement

Carnegie Foundation

Elective Community Engagement Classification

Growth of Community-Based Learning

The following provides a snapshot of community-based activities at Rutgers University–Camden during 2015-16:

- 432,100: The number of hours spent by Rutgers–Camden students on community service
 - 80%: Percentage of students who participated in service; of those, more than 70% contributed more than 20 hours
 - 3,216: The number of students whose service was part of a credit-bearing academic experience
 - 25%: Percentage of faculty trained to provide engaged civic learning.
 - 11,840: The number of Camden families impacted by Rutgers– Camden civic engagement efforts

A Signature Commitment to Camden

By engaging the resources of the university through the Office of Civic Engagement to create academically enriching and rigorous programming for students in grades K-12, Rutgers University–Camden is focused on achieving better outcomes for youth and families in the city of Camden and creating pathways for youth to access higher education.

- Rutgers North Camden Schools Partnership & Ignite
- Hill Family Center for College Access
- Rutgers Future Scholars

Rutgers Future Scholars

- Five years of social and academic support, enrichment, and college guidance
- Academically qualified students receive four-year tuition scholarships to attend Rutgers upon admission to the university
- 50 rising 8th graders admitted each year from Camden City School District and LEAP Academy
- 250 students in grades 8–12 and 90 RFS alums in college

Hill Family Center for College Access

- College awareness and readiness workshops and services for any youth in or around the city of Camden to assist them in making the transition to higher education
- Students in grades 11 and 12 provided college access workshops, college tours, financial aid/FAFSA completion and scholarship searches
- Programs on-site at Rutgers–Camden or at any location
- Rutgers undergraduate and graduate students trained to deliver college access workshops and provide application assistance
- Over 1,800 participants since opening in 2011

Rutgers North Camden Schools Partnership

- University-assisted community schools approach
- Four public, charter, and nonpublic schools
- Year-round academic and parent engagement support
- Connected with engaged civic learning

RUTGERS

UNIVERSITY | CAMDEN